You have always been able to come in and inspect the records. Nothing has prevented you from doing so.

If you would like to pick up a copy of the CD, we can arrange for that as I have previously indicated in prior emails. The hours were suggested to make sure that the person designated to provide the copy of records will be available to do so. I repeatedly asked you to let me know if a different time needed to be arranged. Please advise me when you would like to pick up the CD so that we can make sure someone is available to provide it to you.

Yesterday, LAXPD mailed you a CD with an electronic copy of the records. Damage through mail courier transit is at no fault of the City's and is out of the City's control.

There has been no delay in your access to these records on LAWA's part.

As to your other suggestions, I have asked whether the records can be provided to you in one of the suggested methods.

Subject: Re: Response re CPRA request

Good day, Ms. Majovski.

I received the disk today, and thank for you mailing it to me. Sadly it is broken and therefore unreadable. This, if you're curious, is pretty much the reaons why most of the world gave up on optical disks about 10 years ago. At this point it appears that the options before us are:

a) You mail me a new disk and repeat until one of them is readable.
b) You allow me to come in and pick up a disk during office hours rather than during some arbitrary subset of office hours that only apply to people picking up disks in response to CPRA requests for material made non-exempt by SB1421.
c) You move into the 21st century and transfer the data to me via a cloud service. I know from personal experience that LAWA has used Box in the past for this. Dropbox also works well. You're welcome to use my account at:

https://urldefense.proofpoint.com/v2/url?u=https-3A__www.dropbox.com_request_GM0U4cW7Yqqk8kWrV67d&d=DwIDaQ&c=_EZyg3jpMgV82C-qqw4SRw&r=MrIprnYENmPQRfbi5vEJrRiYm302DwcMqpyY-qucdCU&m=-1AkSOR5iB5A0ni22bq-zE5FbHSeRx8MI-kMVONs3LM&s=JTA25F-2wqIIlNAlL3fYD6KqdsMzfRyOiFF_K7-mWCI&e=

It'll be easier for you if you zip archive multiple files into a single file unless you have access to an account. But an account is not necessary.

d) Some option I didn't think of.

Please let me know as soon as possible. Your client's eccentric and probably illegal insistence on transferring this data by archaic and unworkable means has already delayed my access to these records in violation of the law.

Thanks!

Adrian

A disk with a copy of the responsive records with redactions per Penal Code Section 832.7 subdivisions (b)(5)&(6) is available for pick up under Government Code Section 6253(b) from Wednesday 4/17 through Friday 4/19 1pm – 4pm. If the following dates and times do not work for you to pick up the copy of records requested please let me know so that we can arrange accordingly.

An electronic copy is available for pickup? Please confirm. Also:

I can't guarantee that I will make it between 1pm and 4pm. But I will be there during office hours pursuant to government code 6253(a). Like between 9 am and 4 pm. Please confirm that this is OK. Also please confirm that pursuant to government code 6253(a) I will not be required

to show any kind of ID in order to inspect these records.

Thanks again for your scrupulous adherence to the law!

This is a CPRA request for an electronic copy. The question is

The Division has begun searching 2016 and 2015 records. Again, we appreciate your understanding and patience and will continue to communicate with you regarding this

As mentioned in prior correspondence the Division will be producing responsive non-exempt and non-privileged documents

on a rolling basis starting with the most recent records, year 2018 and working backwards on a year by year basis.

The Division has completed its search of 2019 and 2018 records and there are no responsive records to your request.

We appreciate your understanding and patience and will continue to communicate with you regarding this request.

Thank you,

Karen

Given that your request is so broad and voluminous, LAWA will certainly need an extension to respond to your

because of the need to: 1) search for and collect the requested records from field facilities or other establishments separate from the office processing your request; and 2) to search for, collect, and appropriately examine a voluminous amount of separate and distinct records demanded in your single request.

There are thousands upon thousands of boxes of records that need to be located and reviewed, so processing your

request

will take time and will be processed on a continuing and rolling basis.

The Division will be producing responsive documents on a rolling basis starting with the most recent records -- i.e.

year 2018, and working backwards on a year by year basis.

To the extent your request seeks records from January 1, 2019 to the present, there are no responsive records relating to the categories of discharge of firearm, sustained finding of sexual assault, and sustained finding of dishonesty. I am inquiring as to the use of force category resulting in death or great bodily injury.

I am seeking all the records without time frame. I would prefer that LAWA produce in reverse chronological order

one officer at a time.

The records I am seeking are those made newly non-exempt

SB1421.
